

Horned Lizard

Reptiles

North America

What's on your mind?

Wall

Info

Photos

Friends

I am nicknamed the Horned Frog. I lower my head so that the horns can stick up and defend me. When threatened I will shoot blood out of the corner of my eye. I need sun to stay warm.

Share

I have a rough back, spikes all over, camouflage skin and I am also toad-shaped.

I eat a lot of insects including spiders, snow bugs, ants, grasshoppers, and isopods.

I tend to move from bush to bush or depending on where, maybe just rock to rock to find shelter. Or, sometimes I move just to keep the heat away.

alligator

snake

anteater

John
April 6, 2016