

April 12, 2016

Dear Mrs. Dingman,

I'm here to let you know my son Bradley missed school yesterday because a large amount of miniature bogeymen came into the house at 12:00am and scared the life out of him, literally. He was out cold for 24 hours straight, screaming crazily in his sleep. He is now fine and super-duper ready to go to school. He will scream out of nowhere because the large amount of bogeymen cursed him.