

April 12, 2016

Dear Mrs. Dingman,

Please excuse Emily. We were at home and an avalanche of devious squirrels got into her room. They tore apart everything in there. So our whole entire family had to rummage through our attic, and ask around the neighborhood so we could get her new clothing and furniture. Then we had to go shopping to get her new school supplies. Thank you.