

Alexander von Humboldt

 Born September 14, 1769

 Died May 1859

 Worked for Germany

 From Germany

What's on your mind?

Did you know I discovered the electric eel? Also I was the first European to witness native South Americans preparing curare arrow poison from a vine.

Share

Wall

Info

Photos

Friends

James Cook
British Explorer

I discovered what is now called the Humboldt Current off the west coast of South America. 1773

I went to Ural Mountains in Siberia and to central Asia to study weather there. 1779

Daniel Boone

One of my books, a personal narrative, inspired young Charles Darwin. 1806

Thomas Jefferson

Created by Ian
October 21, 2011