

Hanna

December 9, 2015

If I Were Nature

I'd like to be a wolf so I could howl at the full moon
I'd enjoy being an eagle so I could soar in the wind
I'd appreciate being a wild horse so I could run free
I'd want to be a swan so I could gracefully float in the water
I'd love to be the moon so I could light up the night sky
I'd value being a tree so I could be a part of the forest
I'd be excited to be a cloud so I could get a good view of the world below me
I'd treasure being a whale so I could gracefully dive to the depths of the sea
I'd admire being a worm so I could burrow underground
I'd wish to be a tiger so I could have a flaming pelt
I'd adore being a snake so I could powerfully slither about
I'd select to be a dragon so I could majestically soar among the clouds
I'd hope to be the northern lights so I could put on a colorful, wavy show
I'd prefer to be an elephant so I could live on an endless savannah
I'd desire to be a mountain so I could be an enormous rock masterpiece