

I Would Like To Be

I'd like to be a tiger so I could roar louder than the wind
I'd want to be a dandelion so I could dance through the soft breeze
I'd prefer being a plane so I could take people on a new journey to different places
I'd enjoy being a microwave so I could reheat plenty of different foods from around the world
I'd wish to be a notepad so I could be filled with lovely art
I'd love being a cat... so I could always be on the prowl
I'd desire to be a pencil so I could scribble and scrabble all over paper
I'd adore being a classroom... so I could see and hear kids learning new subjects
I'd chose to be a toaster so I could watch people enjoy eating toast
I'd appreciate being a toy so kids would play with me, laugh, and adore me
I'd select to be our flag of the United States of America so I could worship soldiers every day
I'd admire being Mother Nature so I could watch over and control nature
I'd care to be a toilet... so I could use my fresh potty mouth
I'd consider being a book so everybody can read my story
I'd reckon being love... so everybody can love each other and be happy
